END OF YEAR MESSAGE: MONTH OF SOLIDARITY AND JOY

We have dedicated this month of November to solidarity, an ideal time to reflect on what we have achieved and to share with others. December, on the other hand, is the month of joy, a time to enjoy what surrounds us and appreciate the little things, like a good book, which can be the perfect gift to enjoy with family or during the holidays.

As we reach the end of another school year, we realize how quickly time has passed. We hope that this has been a year full of learning and new discoveries, both inside and outside the pages of books. Through the game of reading, we explored worlds, learned concepts, and, above all, experienced knowledge in a fun and enriching way.

Thank you for your dedication and love for books. You are the reason the Library continues to grow and evolve. We thank you for being part of our activities and for making reading a continuous adventure. We bid farewell to the school year with gratitude and wish you a Merry Christmas and a well-deserved summer break!

Recommended family events for the month of December:

Christmas Storytelling at the Library

Date: Wednesday, December 18th, at 5:00 PM.

Description: We are getting closer and closer to Christmas, and the Vitacura library will not be left out of this celebration for any reason! That's why on this day we will celebrate by reading a classic by Hans Christian Andersen, whose protagonist is a small pine tree that lives deep in the forest and longs with all his heart to see the world. Thus, when he was taken to the city at Christmas, he felt that all his dreams had come true. However, what will happen to him the next day? Come discover the outcome, we will be waiting for you!

Address: Library, Av. San Josemaría Escrivá de Balaguer 6420, Vitacura.

- Free admission. Limited spots available.

Date: From December 6th to March 9th

Description: The festival of lights and Chinese culture that returns to Santiago with its new edition and in a new location. That is to say, throughout the summer holidays, it will serve as an entertaining outdoor and family-friendly panorama, opening in the evenings when its light structures are turned on, bringing a fascinating spectacle to life.

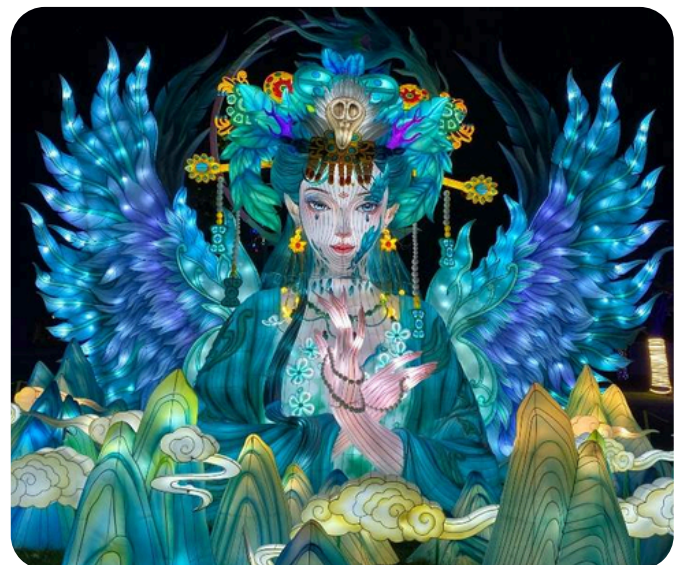

Although the event has much more, as there are music, dance, and acrobatics shows, and you can also find stalls with crafts and traditional Chinese food.

Address: Av. Bilbao 8105, La Reina

Admission: $5,000 pesos

- Includes parking for the entire day

RETURN YOUR BOOK TO THE LIBRARY!

Dear students:

At the end of the school year, we remind you of the importance of returning the books you borrowed from the library. This action is essential to conduct the inventory and ensure that all materials are available and in good condition for the next school year.

We request your cooperation and responsibility to return the books before the end of classes. You can do so during regular library hours or, if you prefer, drop them in the white mailbox located next to the library door.

We sincerely appreciate your support and commitment to this process.

CHRISTMAS RECOMMENDATIONS

Section of literary recommendations made by students, teachers, and staff.

Rocío Chamorro

4th grade A
Providencia

I recommend the book "Historia de un oso" by Antonia Herrera and Gabriel Osorio, because the story is very creative and teaches me about sadness and happiness at the same time.

Giulia Hermo

6th grade E
Chicureo

I recommend the "Gravity Falls" book series by Alex Hirsch because they have a lot of action and are more interesting for children's reading due to how entertaining they are.

Alexis Rosales

Teacher
Chicureo

I recommend "La clase de Griego" by Han Kang, because it is a story that intertwines the unfortunate lives of two (adult) people who can come to understand each other and find meaning in their existence.

Cristobal Palomer

3rd grade A
Providencia

I recommend the book "Gato encerrado" by Mireya Tabuas because it is about adventures. The story is very entertaining and the presence of cats makes it even better!

Elena Renck

4th grade A
Providencia

I recommend the book "The Fantastic Flying Books of Mr. Morris Lessmore" by William Joyce because the story is very exciting and the illustrations are captivating.

Laura Yavar

6th grade E
Chicureo

I recommend the book "El universo según Carlota" by Teresa Paneque because it is fun and encourages more readers to follow and become interested in astronomy through Charlotte's adventures.

READING PROMOTION ACTIVITIES

EASTER ANIMATIONS AND CRAFTS

During these last weeks of classes, various activities with Christmas themes were organized for the students in our library.

The students participated in the creation of beautiful and creative Christmas decorations. These decorations were used to decorate the library, transforming it into a space full of color and a festive atmosphere.

Additionally, during the morning recesses, there were exhibitions of Christmas-themed children's animations, giving students the opportunity to enjoy short films and mini-series while reinforcing the Christmas spirit.

These activities fostered creativity, teamwork, and a sense of community, turning the library into a special place to celebrate Christmas in advance.

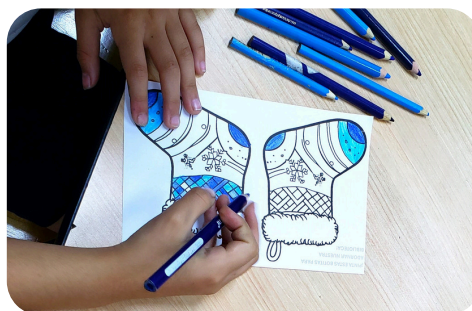

May it be a great celebration!

ALBUM BOOK WORKSHOP

A day full of creativity in our library!

Last Friday, November 22nd, at the Providencia campus, a successful workshop on creating picture books with recycled materials was held, as part of the reading promotion activities and the ecological week. Students of various levels developed skills in drawing and writing, enjoying an enriching experience.

The creations will be displayed in the "literary recommendations" corner of the Providencia library, available to the entire community. At the Chicureo campus, a workshop was also held with the students of the Reading Comprehension elective from the third year of high school, generating an enriching analysis and conversation about the use and content of picture books.

READING PROMOTION ACTIVITIES

CHRISTMAS Storytelling

During the months of November and part of December, our libraries organized a series of storytelling activities for the students, featuring narrations of Chilean tales, classic fables, and stories with philosophical content. These stories not only promoted linguistic learning but also the emotional development of the students.

Each session included captivating stories and fun activities that invited students to reflect on the topics covered and interact creatively with the tales. These activities boosted the children's imagination, reading comprehension, and the strengthening of emotional values.

Thank you to all the boys and girls for their participation and for making these moments something special. See you at the next literary adventure!

EMOTIONAL GRADUATION OF A GENERATION

On November 23rd, at our Providencia campus, the graduation of the 2024 class was celebrated with great emotion and pride. The ceremony was an event full of feelings and memories, where the students were the center of attention, surrounded by their teachers, parents, and classmates. During this ceremony, the teachers dedicated profound and heartfelt messages to them, recognizing not only their academic achievements but also the personal growth they experienced throughout their time at the institution.

This graduation marked the closing of a chapter in their lives, a chapter that now allows them to move forward with confidence towards new challenges.

Over the years at Trehela's School, the students have acquired valuable life skills that will enable them to successfully face future challenges. The ceremony was also a reflection of the constant support from the parents, who were always present in accompanying their children, contributing to the holistic development of the students.

Trehela's School takes pride in the journey of its students, who, with effort and dedication, have proven to be a fundamental part of the school's educational family. Now, as they embark on a new stage, they carry with them all that they have learned and the experiences they have lived, ready to face the future with the same passion and commitment with which they arrived here.

Congratulations to all the graduates of the Class of 2024. This is just the beginning of a new and exciting chapter in your lives!

SMALL BIG NEWS OF THE MONTH!

Antonella, our Literary Factor

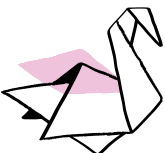

As a school, we are extremely proud to announce that in the latest edition of the literary contest "call for stories with an open theme" organized by the agency Factor Literario, our 2nd-year high school student, Antonella Alcalde, was selected among more than 400 stories to be included in an anthology that will be published at the Latin American level in the coming months.

We congratulate Antonella on this great achievement and for the remarkable literary talent that she will undoubtedly continue to cultivate and develop.

Space - origami in the library!

As you read! A permanent space has been created for students to enjoy origami. With a guidebook and paper of various sizes and colors, students will be able to create various figures, fostering their creativity and learning in a fun way. A perfect corner to explore the art of paper folding!

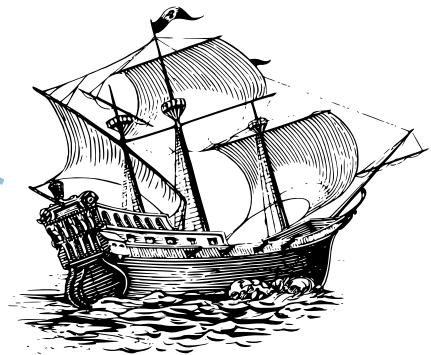

Philosophy and Art: Meeting in Reflection

In the context of the International Day of Philosophy, the Third-Year High School students participated in an interdisciplinary activity that combined the Philosophy subject with the Visual and Multimedia Arts class. Under the title "Philosophy and Art, a Meeting in Reflection," the initiative aimed to deepen the understanding of major concepts of Western thought through artistic creation.

Guided by Professor Macarena Mora in Arts and Professor Felipe in Philosophy, the students developed fanzines using various techniques. Each fanzine interpretively addressed the concepts of Essence, Change, Psyche, Truth, Knowledge, and Consciousness, fostering both dialogue and reflection in those who observe them.

The activity allowed students to explore the connections between art and philosophy, expressing their personal visions through a creative and critical approach. The results were surprising and reflected the depth with which the students interpreted these fundamental concepts, demonstrating the richness of integrating disciplines in the classroom.

CONCLUSION OF BOOK CLUBS

The Reading Clubs at the Chicureo campus have successfully concluded their first cycle of activities, a space that allowed students to delve into the fascinating world of literature and share their perspectives on the books read. Throughout the school year, deep reflection and interaction among peers were emphasized, fostering a community of committed readers.

To culminate this experience, a gathering with snacks was organized, creating an atmosphere of camaraderie and relaxation. During this gathering, the students were able to reflect on the readings they experienced throughout the year, share their opinions, concerns, and emotions, and strengthen bonds with their peers. This closing was not only an opportunity to exchange ideas about the texts read but also to celebrate the effort and dedication of all the club members.

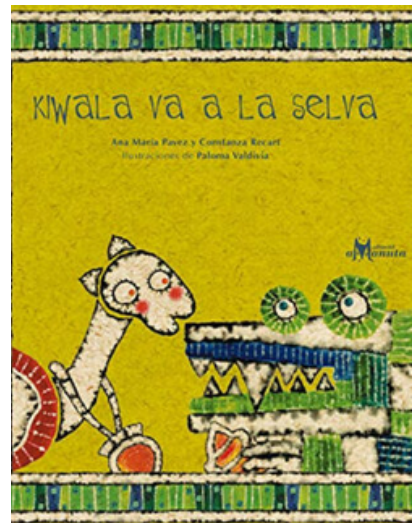

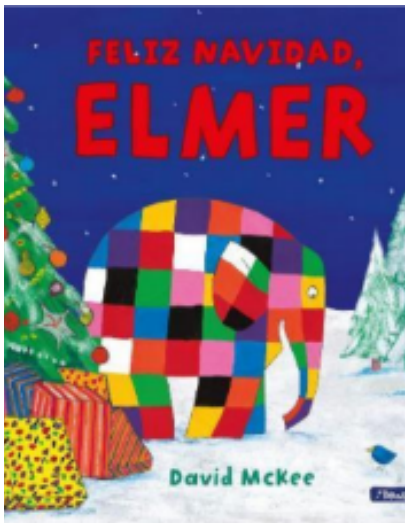

Thank you all for your enthusiasm and active participation in this first cycle of the Reading Clubs at Trehela's School Chicureo. Each one of you has been fundamental in making this project such an enriching experience. Without a doubt, this first cycle has been just the beginning of a beautiful reading tradition in our school community. We feel very happy and grateful to have shared this literary journey together and eagerly look forward to the next reading adventures!

CHILDREN'S CATEGORY

Un cuento de Navidad: basado en tradiciones chilenas

Olaya Sanfuentes

Editorial Amanuta

Did you know that Christmas was not always celebrated as it is today? Christmas Eve was the happiest celebration of all, and people celebrated in the streets, among fairs and makeshift shelters. It was during one of those old-fashioned Chilean Christmases when Manolito and Doña Brígida met.

Available in the library.

Elia y la obra de teatro

Timo Parvela

Editorial SM

On this occasion, Elia's teacher has to organize a performance for the Christmas party, so he decides to take the entire class to see a play. The entire class will attend a theater performance to learn how theater works and how theatrical presentations are made.

How will the play the kids present be? Surely there will be many fun surprises...

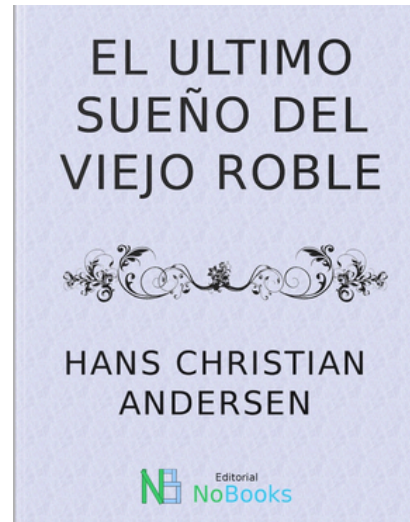

Available in the library.

LITERARY RECOMMENDATIONS

YOUNG ADULT CATEGORY

Vanka and otras pequeñas historias

Anton Chekhov

Formato Kindle

On Christmas Eve, Vanka Zhúkov (Vanka is the diminutive of Ivan), a 9-year-old orphan boy, begins to write a letter addressed to his grandfather from the house of the shoemaker Aliajin in Moscow. In it, Vanka tells him about the hardships he is enduring (the shoemaker's mistreatment, the misery he lives in, the loneliness he feels...) and finally begs him to let him come live with him in his village.

Available in digital format and the digital public library of Chile.

El último sueño del viejo roble

Han Christian Andersen

Editorial NoBooks

At the top of a hill, a centuries-old oak tree, which had lived for four centuries, stood as a beacon for sailors and a refuge for all kinds of birds. For almost the entire year, the tree remained awake, offering its shade and home to doves and owls. Only during the winter did it immerse itself in sweet dreams. This tale, which invites reflection on this life and the next, unfolds in a Christmas setting, addressing values such as generosity and kindness. Ideal for older children, teenagers, and adults.

Available in digital format and the digital public library of Chile.

LITERARY RECOMMENDATIONS

CATEGORY OF ADULT READERS

Cuentos de Navidad: De los Hermanos Grimm a Paul Auster
Varios Autores
Editorial Alba

This anthology reflects the joy, the sense of community, the spiritual excitement, the opportunity for change, the desires, the nostalgia, and even the rejection that these dates awaken in many of us, because, while it is true that tradition invites good feelings, it is not less true that it presents a surprising variety of styles and tones: humor, darkness, social criticism, fantasy, and tragedy.

Available in digital libraries and bookstores.

La Tejedora de Coronas
Germán Espinoza
Editorial Penguin Random House

The story of Genoveva Alcocer is narrated in the first person. It begins on April 3rd, 1697, when Federico Goltar, a young astronomy enthusiast in love with Genoveva, supposedly discovers the planet Genoveva. However, this discovery cannot be published as it would have been deemed heretical by the Inquisition of Cartagena. The narrative delves deeply into the events of the 1697 Cartagena Expedition, which occurred between May and June.

Available in libraries and bookstores.
